"Army group of the German Crown Prince—in the Meuse sector (Verdun front)—It was quieter than on the preceding day. Only in the district of St. Mihiel did the artillery fire increase temporarily to greater violence."

PARIS, Oct. 31.—A violent artillery struggle was in progress last night on the Donaufront and Vaux sectors on the western front, but otherwise there were no actions of importance, the War Office reported to-day.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—"With the exception of intermittent shelling on both sides there was nothing to report during the night," reads today's official British statement regarding operations on the Franco-Belgian front.

NEW AIR AND SEA RAIDS.

Rome Gets a Report of the Plans of Germany.

ROME, Oct. 31.—Advices reaching here point to a resumption shortly by Germany of extensive employment of aircraft and submarine warfare against every nation allied against the Teutonic nations.

These reports closely follow statements that Germany's replies to the Pope's protestations against unrestricted submarine and the renewed deportations from Northern France and Belgium have been evasive.

The Pope, these reports say, has finally appealed Emperor Franz Josef for his aid in influencing the Kaiser to accede to the Vatican's protestations.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart, which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress called headache. You become nervous, dependent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for a while, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge, which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick, and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.—Advt.

HEAVY FIGHTING RESUMED ALONG RUSSIAN FRONT

Czar's Forces Attack in Volhynia and Teutons Make Drive in Galicia.

BOTH CLAIMING GAINS.

Turks and Teutonic Troops in an Advance on the Southern Line.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Heavy fighting has broken out along the Russian front. The Russians are attacking in strong force in Volhynia while the Austro-Germans, reinforced by Turkish detachments, have taken the offensive in Galicia. Battles continued throughout yesterday from the region west of the fortress of Lutsk into the Carpathian forests, despite heavy snow storms.

The Russian War Office this afternoon claimed the capture of Austro-German trenches west of Lutsk and the repulse of successive enemy attacks in Galicia. The German War Office, on the contrary, reported the fighting on the Lutsk front resulted favorably to the Teutons and announced the capture of Russian positions on the east bank of the Narayukva River, in Galicia, by the Turks.

BERLIN, Oct. 31 (via wireless to Sayville).—The text of the German War Office concerning the fighting on the Russian front is as follows:

"At dawn the Russians attacked our Shara position near Krahnin after a brief increase of fire, but were sanguinarily repulsed.

"Northwest of Hereshtchik, on the Upper Strv, outposts engagements had a result favorable to us.

"On the east bank of the Narayukva, Turkish troops captured several advance positions of the enemy, northwest of Molochov, at the point of the bayonet. Further south, German regiments took important positions on the heights west of Foly-Kanonele and repulsed Russian counter attacks. Four officers, 170 men and nine machine guns were brought in.

"Southwest of Stanislaw an advance of Russian detachments was without success."

HIGH PRAISE BY POPE OF BELGIAN RELIEF

Pontiff Receives George Barr Baker and Gives Him Autographed Photograph.

ROME, Oct. 31.—Pope Benedict today received in private audience George Barr Baker of New York, a member of the American Commission for Relief in Belgium. Wishing, he said, further to demonstrate his appreciation of the work of the American Relief Committee, the Pontiff presented to Mr. Baker two autographed photographs, one for himself and one for Herbert C. Hoover, Chairman of the Commission.

The Pope expressed the hope that the plan of the Commission to provide a supplementary meal for the Belgian children to save them from starvation and disease would be a success, and added that it would give a new proof of American generosity.

His Holiness recently addressed an apostolic letter to Cardinal Gibbons, recommending that the Roman Catholic Episcopacy, clergy and laity in the United States support the plan.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Greek steamer Germaine has been sunk by a German submarine, but the crew was saved, says a Lloyd's Agency despatch.

ROUMANIAN LOSS OF 10,000 TROOPS, BERLIN'S CLAIM

Falkenhayn Reports on His Captures in Fighting Since Oct. 10.

MUCH BOOTY TAKEN.

Petrograd Says Russians Have Hit Back at Mackensen's Army.

BERLIN, Oct. 31 (by wireless to Sayville).—Efforts of the Roumanians to recapture positions along the Transylvania frontier yesterday were without success, the War Office announced to-day. Since Oct. 10 the Austrians and Germans have captured more than 20,000 Roumanians. Of these Gen. von Falkenhayn's forces have captured 151 Roumanian officers and 9,200 men. Booty includes thirty-seven cannons, forty-seven machine guns, one flag and much other war material.

Winter weather has set in on the Transylvania front, to-day's statement revealed.

"On the southern frontier mountain engagements continue in spite of a heavy snow storm," the report stated.

The Roumanians vainly endeavored to retake heights captured by the Germans north of Campulung and north of Orsova, the statement declared.

On Prince Leopold's front the Roumanians attacked German positions near Krahnin, but were repulsed with heavy losses. At this point attempts were ineffectually made to enter German trenches following bombing south of Blachas.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 31.—The Russian, Serbian and Roumanian forces in the Dobruja have assumed the offensive, according to the semi-official News Agency's Odessa correspondent.

Berlin had previously reported that von Mackensen's advance guards had come in contact with Russo-Roumanian troops in the region immediately south of the mouth of the Danube, intimating that the Roumanians and Roumanians had ceased their retreat, but this is the first intimation that Serbians are fighting alongside their allies, and there is no statement as to how they reached that section of the world.

It is believed here Czar Nicholas has poured immense reinforcements into Dobruja, from Bessarabia, where he trains his armies, to check Mackensen's advance, and has determined to make a stand with his back to the Danube.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 31 (via London).—Emperor William, says an official announcement made in Berlin, has sent a message to Field Marshal von Mackensen, thanking him for his successful operations he has conducted in Dobruja and the capture of Cernavoda. The Emperor announces that West Prussian Infantry Regiment No. 129 will henceforth bear Field Marshal von Mackensen's name.

The United Drug Company recently absorbed the business of the Riker-Hegeman Company.

"PROSPERITY TO GO ON AFTER WAR," DECLARES DAVISON, HUGHES MAN

WHILE CANDIDATE HUGHES and Republican orators generally have been telling the people this country is going to smash as soon as the war is over, because Europe is to turn, by magic, from an armed camp to a live of industry and flood our markets, Harry P. Davison, of the American banking house, has been in France and England studying the situation with reference to the present and the future.

Mr. Davison is back. He has contributed $5,000 to Mr. Hughes's campaign fund. But he doesn't see the United States going to smash after the war.

On the contrary, he sees a continuance of prosperity in this country long after the war, in a statement issued to-day, Mr. Davison said:

"I am perfectly clear that if we regard Great Britain and France as desirable customers and wish to continue to sell them our products, we must treat them as a producer usually treats a desirable customer, in which event I am confident we will continue to supply them largely, not only during the war but for the reconstruction period, which will follow."

ROFRANO, RAILING, SAYS PROSECUTOR IS 'HOUNDING' HIM

ing a prisoner named Schenk had lost $100,000 by his imprisonment, and your replying it had cost you nearly as much through losing your practice? A. No.

DENIES HE CAME BACK WHEN THINGS WERE "FIXED."

Q. Didn't he ask you why you didn't come back from hiding sooner so that you wouldn't have lost your clients, and didn't you say "I came back just as soon as I knew things were fixed?" A. Nothing of the sort.

Q. But would you have put that down in your diary if you had a mind to? A. Of course, if I'd been foolish enough to say these things I'd have put them down.

Q. You borrowed $100 while you were in hiding, from whom did you borrow it? A. I refuse to answer that question.

Q. Do you refuse because you believe the information would aid the authorities in finding John Rofrano, your brother who is a fugitive from justice or that it would imply your guilt here?

Q. Then why do you refuse to answer? (Rofrano raised his voice, hunched forward in his chair and pointed his finger at Mr. Rofrano.) A. Because I do not want a friend of mine, who knows nothing of the merits of this case, to be dragged over my head, threatened, browbeaten and bullied as you have done by every person whose name is mentioned here by me.

You have subpoenaed all my witnesses, you have brought them before the Grand Jury to frighten them into withholding the truth about me.

You have subpoenaed Miss Mac, Vincent Pepe and a lot of others and Mrs. Campagni at the Buena Vista Hotel, and her mother and father, and they are now sick in bed.

Q. Do you know that we had your bounds down there Sunday?

Q. Do you know Vincent Pepe refused to obey the subpoena? A. No.

Q. Did you know Miss Mac came here cheerfully yesterday and said she was sorry she didn't know more about you and could tell? A. No, and I don't believe it.

ACCUSES HIS PROSECUTOR OF HOUNDING HIM.

Q. Do you charge me personally with hounding you? A. Yes, you and the other lawyers who are hounding all the time, Mr. Rofrano.

Q. By the others you mean? A. Di Martino and Cuniffe, the detectives, and Gallagher and Mr. Deacon Murphy.

Q. And Mr. Dooling? A. Certainly, Mr. Dooling.

Q. And Judge Swann? A. No, never.

Rofrano became agitated again when Mr. Rofrano asked about the witness's habit of signing checks in blank and leaving them at his office to be filled out at his discretion by his brothers. Undeterred by the Court he addressed a Gory speech to the prosecutor and jury, offering all his private papers to emergency by his brother, Mr. Littleton Limited the offer to all papers which could possibly, in the joint opinion of the District Attorney and himself, affect the present case.

"I'm not afraid to let the jury see my check stubs," cried Rofrano, holding them out to the foreman.

TINY PARALYSIS VICTIM CHRISTENS AMBULANCE FOR BOSTON SUFFERERS

The Militia of Mercy Adds to the Scope of the Work it Is Doing Here.

Four-year-old Ellen Anderson of No. 43 Manhattan Place, Brooklyn, a victim of infantile paralysis, today christened a new Militia of Mercy ambulance in City Hall Park, while a large gathering applauded. Ellen used a bottle of milk to baptize the ambulance. Although the child stood on her feet, her legs were not quite strong enough to support her plump body. Under her left arm was a crutch. Miss Emma Barnes, a nurse, held the right arm and helped put "pep" in Ellen's blow when she finally broke the pint bottle and the milk poured over the ambulance springs.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond, president of the Militia of Mercy, represented that organization. She explained that the new ambulance, one of four used to transport paralysis victims during the "after treatment," is to be sent to Boston in charge of a trained nurse. Samuel Martin, the Mayor's executive secretary, handed Mrs. Hammond the following letter from Mayor Mitchell, to be delivered to Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston:

"My dear Mr. Mayor: The bearer of this letter is leaving New York to-day with one of the ambulances purchased by the Militia of Mercy for service in Boston in transporting victims of infantile paralysis from their homes to the clinics for after treatment."

"Mrs. Hammond and her associates in the league are engaged in this unselfish and public-spirited undertaking here. They were met with the hearty approval of the city administration, and I wish them every success in the work they purpose to do in Boston."

Three weeks ago Ellen Anderson was helpless from the hips down. That was when she left the hospital after her paralysis attack. Since then she has made numerous trips in the Militia of Mercy ambulance bus to a clinic where she has received very beneficial treatment.

There were three Militia of Mercy ambulance buses at today's ceremony, including the one to be sent to Boston. The other two and another bus usually engaged to be private are used in this city. These ambulances are at the service of all paralysis victims who are taking after treatment at clinics.

Really more resemble buses than ambulances, being provided with comfortable seats with an aisle between.

POLICEMAN SENT TO PRISON.

Convicted on Charge of Attacking Fifteen-Year-Old Girl.

James E. Hughes, thirty-two years old, of No. 595 Tenth avenue, a policeman attached to the Mulberry Street station, was today sentenced to Sing Sing Prison for not less than two years and six months and not more than five years by Judge Wolt in General Sessions.

Hughes, who has been on the police force a little over five years, was convicted of enticing a fifteen-year-old school girl, while he was on post, into a vacant store at No. 318 Howard, June 20, and there assaulting her.

At the time the girl's father made the complaint against the policeman, so little was known of the case that the girl's father was in the custody of his captain and not suspended from active duty.

James McDonald, however, in investigating the case, found evidence that resulted in his conviction.

SWISS MINISTER'S PAPERS SEIZED ON LINER BY BRITISH

Noordam's Mail Taken Off at Kirkwall, Is Charge of Arriving Passengers.

Passengers on the steamship Noordam of the Holland-America Line, which arrived from Rotterdam by way of Kirkwall this afternoon, told of having passed close enough to a floating mine to study it.

Of the 663 persons on board, probably the most indignant was Jules Metzger, a courier for the Swiss Government, who had two important packages, one for the Legation in Washington and the other for the Consulate in this city, taken from him by British authorities who visited the ship at Falmouth.

Mr. Metzger left for Washington this afternoon to tell the Swedish Minister about it. Previous to relieving Mr. Metzger of his documents, another squad of British officials boarded the vessel at Kirkwall and took off all the mail.
